Football Workouts Eyed

Canyon High School Eagles take to the field Monday morning to begin a week of two-day football practices.

Head coach Ron Mills said this week some 80 boys will workout daily from 7:30 to 9 a.m. and from 7-9 p.m. at the high school field.

Practices will continue when school begins Aug. 23, and the first scrimmage will be held Friday, Aug. 27, against Snyder at Wayland College in Plainview.

Mills explained that the junior varsity will play at 6 p.m., the third team at 7 p.m. and the varsity at 8 p.m.

The following Friday the Eagles will face Hereford at Hereford in a scrimmage with the same schedule.

The regular season opens Sept. 10 against Clovis.

Mills said daily practices will include every phase of football with players working out in shoulder pads, helmets and shorts during the morning and full pads at the evening practices.

His coaching staff includes Roy Winters as defensive coordinator and quarterback coach; Phil Ehly coach of the offensive line; Willie McAlpin as defensive line coach; B.B. Kendricks coaching the linebackers and offensive ends; Bob Schneider as defensive secondary coach and backfield coach; and Eric Roanhaus coaching junior varsity and defensive secondary.

Liquor Election Called

BY TROY MARTIN
The first local option election in Randall County since repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment has been called for Sept. 8 in Justice of the Peace Precinct 4.

The proposition which will appear on the ballot is clearcut.

It will simply be for or against the legal sale of alcoholic beverages including mixed drinks.

Absentee voting will begin Aug. 19 and end Sept. 3, according to County Clerk LeRoy Hutton. Applications for absentee ballots for voting by mail may be obtained by writing to the county clerk at the court house in Canyon.

The election was called by Randall County commissioners court Monday after the county clerk presented the court with petitions bearing the names of 3,945 qualified voters from the justice precinct.

Only 3,715 were required. "They had 230 in reserve," Hutton asserted.

Petitions were circulated under leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Meehan who along with her husband, Jess, operates the Personality House Restaurant on Western.

Hutton said there were 5,577 names on the 304 pages of petitions circulated by some 150 workers. Of this number 1,633 were not qualified voters of the precinct.

"Some of them were from Potter County," Hutton observed.

Commissioner Bill Butler made the motion to call the election after the petition was presented. Commissioner John Fulgenzi seconded the motion.

Hutton pointed out that the precinct involved includes all of South Amarillo and extends southward to McCormick Road within five miles of Canyon, south down Washington about three miles, eastward to Palo Duro Canyon and thence along the middle of the canyon to the Armstrong County line.

Seven election judges were named by the court including C.M. Purcell, Ronald Holeman, Mary Miner, Bob Skinner, Charles O. Clark, Mrs. Betty Sterquell and Marcella Perrin.

Voting will be at Gene Howe School for voting precincts 9 and 10; Caprock High School, Precinct 11; Alice Landergin, Precinct 12; South Georgia School, 13 and 14; Coronado School, 15, 16, 17 and 18; and Ridgecrest Elementary, 19, 20, 21.

Voting machines will not be used in the election since paper ballots are required by law in this case, Hutton as-

Horton Arraigned In Randall County

Leon C. Horton of Dallas was arraigned on six counts of theft by false pretext before Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson Tuesday afternoon immediately after arriving in Canyon from Dallas.

Horton, an attorney who was jailed in Dallas County Jail July 31, is being held in lieu of $150,000 bond.

Two Randall County deputies drove to Dallas Monday and returned Tuesday with Horton.

The Dallas attorney was filed on in Randall County because of alleged stock transfers bearing forged signatures which occurred at the Western National Bank

Clerk Tells Of County Growth

Randall County Clerk LeRoy Hutton is breathing hard these days and he reports that part of the reason is due to a boom in filings through his office.

"A good measure of volume in a county clerk office is the dollar amount of filing each month," Hutton explained.

And Randall County has recorded more than $4,000 each month since March. This compares to only one $4,000 month in both 1968, 1969 and two such months in 1970.

Hutton also noted that more than 1,000 real property instruments were filed in June and July, which is the first time the county office has broken that figure in five years.

"This is a measure of our real estate and growth," he pointed out.

Hutton also explains that (see CLERK, page 8) in south Amarillo, according to Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen.

Horton is believed to have used power of attorney papers on which Robert L. Roberts signature allegedly had been forged, said Dowlen. Roberts had the power of attorney for his aunt Jesse I. Forsythe, Dowlen explained.

Two Amarillo men, Roy Howington and Jack Colvin, testified at a court of inquiry last week in Dallas. The men, both former officers of the Western National Bank, told the court they had reservations about the transfers but were instructed by the president of the bank that everything was okay, Dowlen said.

Dowlen, who attended the court of inquiry, said the two men testified that John Stevens, president of the bank, guaranteed Horton's signature as power of attorney on the stocks.

The district attorney recalled that Colvin said he felt the bank president acted in good faith in guaranteeing the stocks.

Both Roberts and Miss Forsythe have been missing since August, 1970.

The amount involved is estimated at $150,000 (see HORTON, page 8)

Board Views Budget, Taxes

Hospital district board will meet at 5 p.m. today in the Farm Bureau Building to discuss a budget and possible avenues for raising money the first year.

After setting the budget, the board will view collecting money by assessing and collecting taxes through the county tax assessor-collector or borrowing the needed money for the first year.

Audrey Bruse, Randall County tax assessor-collector, told county commissioners last week the tax statements would be late if her office has to hold the statements until all property in precinct 3 is identified. Precinct 3 is the boundaries for the district.

The answer to the problem may be to borrow the needed money the first year and tax in 1972 for a two-year period, explained Bob Davis, financial adviser for the hospital district board.

Other subjects to be discussed include hiring of a business manager, selection of office space and architectural fees.

Physical Exams Today

All boys planning to participate in any sport at Canyon High School this year are requested to be at the field house at 5 p.m. today for physical examinations.

Head football coach Ron Mills said all football players must be there at 5 p.m. and any boy wishing to play in sports at CHS should be on hand also.

Price for the exams will be $1.

Farmers Get Relief From Heavy Showers

BY JERRY MONTGOMERY

A spotty, but healthy rain fell over most parts of Randall County beginning Saturday, to aid crops already running late for the season.

The rainfall, which was heavier in the northeastern sections of the county than in the southwestern portion, began Saturday in most places.

Range grasses that have been in low vigor have been responding to the rainfall and there will be some fairly good grazing for the cattle for the next two or three months said John Brazzil county agent.

Brazzil said that a considerable acreage of dry land grain sorghum has benefited greatly from the moisture and "we could at this time have a good crop of dry land grain sorghum."

Sometime within the next week to 10 days farmers will be seeding. The moisture will also help in that aspect," Brazzil said.

Since about July 20 Randall County has had an unusually cool spell of weather, Brazzil added. Rains have cooled off the Panhandle and allowed the moisture to be most effective.

Nolon Henson reported 1.78 inches Saturday but not any good rain since Saturday night. He received 2.6 inches on the west side of the farm, however, which is in Deaf Smith County.

Forrest Gruner in the northeastern part of the county reported as much as 3.6 inches in some places but a total of 2.6 inches at his home. The Gruner farm has received 3 inches since July 22 he said.

Southeast of Amarillo Joe Turpin reported 1.30 inches at the house Saturday night and only sprinkles Sunday.

Anton Handing, west of Canyon, reported 1.70 inches from Friday to Saturday (see FARMERS, page 8)

Forrest Gruner of Rt. 2, Canyon, stands in ankle-high water to survey his corn crop which received several inches of rain beginning Saturday.

Metro Budget Upped

BY MARGO CRABTREE

Canyon and Amarillo's Metro Squad has been budgeted $122,000 for its second year of operation through the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, according to Metro coordinator Joe Bowes.

Metro was allocated $112,362 for its first 12 months of operation in March of this year, Bowes explained.

Bowes told commissioners from Randall and Potter Counties, the cities of Canyon and Amarillo and officials from West Texas State University Wednesday that the projections for the second year of operation call for computerized record system, more equipment for the unit, the hiring of an intelligent analyst, and an exchange program between federal government and local government entity personnel.

The coordinator explained the computerized record system would include only the alphabetical name files kept by the Metro Squad.

Mobil surveillance, vehicles, night viewing equipment, photography equipment and a telecopier machine make up the list of equipment desired by the unit (see METRO, page 8)

Voter Registration May Cost A Bundle

BY MARGO CRABTREE

The new voter registration law may cost Randall County upwards of $20,000, predicts County Tax Assessor-collector Mrs. Audrey Bruse.

"This is the most poorly written and expensive law I've ever seen," laments Mrs. Bruse.

"While we are trying to hold down taxes they pass a law like this and our hands are tied to do anything about it," she continued.

She explains the new law, which begins with registration for 1972, as a burden on the tax office and "parts in it I wonder why they even put in it." The law, as detailed by Mrs. Bruse, requires the county tax office to purchase at 5 cents each all the change of address cards for each month from the post office.

"Some of these cards won't even be for people who are able to vote," she declares.

Her office will have 30 days to turn the cards against the list of registered voters for the county and her staff must then send two notices to the registered voters who have moved out of the county.

One notice goes to the old address and another to the new address, according to Mrs. Bruse. She also says that each member of the household who is a registered voter receives individual letters.

At the end of a second 30 day period, the tax office sends out a certified letter with a returned receipt telling them their registration has been cancelled.

"Then we have to search to find out what county they (see VOTER, page 8)

Kids, Inc. To Meet For Plans

An organizational meeting for Kids, Inc., football is scheduled for 8 p.m. today in the field house at the West Texas State University campus.

Charley Gerald, newly-elected round-up man for Canyon, made the announcement following a previous organizational meeting Monday night.

Other new officers are George Bulman, equipment manager, Max Brummett, in charge of selecting coaches, and Mrs. Jim Palmer, treasurer.

Anyone interested in participating in Kids, Inc. football, may phone any of the above persons or attend the second organizational meeting today, said A.J. Luquette, director.

Equipment can not be issued before next week, Luquette said, and games won't start until after Sept. 1 when schedules will be drawn up and teams selected.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

As laws passed by the recent meeting of our lawmakers in Austin become known, the 62nd legislature may well emerge with the distinction of having done the poorest job of any legislature in the state's history.

The latest fiasco to be unveiled before the incredulous eyes of Randall County was the voter registration law.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, Randall County tax assessor-collector, told commissioners court Monday that her office will have to have a voter registration department, complete with a supervisor to deal with ridiculous regulations stipulated by the legislature.

Among other things, her office must go to absurd lengths to track down registered voters who have moved and having found them notify each voter that he is no longer eligible to vote in Randall County. This will cost more than a dollar per itinerant voter in hard cash out of pocket. Who knows what it will cost in frustration and office work?

Mrs. Bruse estimates that the whole thing will hit Randall County voters a $20,000 body blow.

Tom Christian, Randall County's representative, says he voted against the voter registration bill.

The newspaper's workmen's compensation insurance premium came due this week. As I paid the premium my insurance agent presented me with a bill for a fee for the Texas Industrial Board. The fee came to $7.50 — a nice present from the 62nd Legislature. It is one which I will personally ask anyone running for state office next year to explain.

I haven't the foggiest what the Texas Industrial Board plans to do with my seven and a half bucks. It doesn't sound like a great deal of money but multiply $7.50 by the thousands of business entities in Texas and you have a tidy sum.

Then there's the matter of taxes on fines. Randall's justices of the peace informed commissioners court this week that the legislature has levied a $2.50 tax on fines — regardless of the amount of the fine — to be collected by the presiding judge.

This calls for more records and more expense to the county.

Yes, there are always records. We were notified only last month that we must begin collecting sales tax on newspaper sales.

This isn't so bad if it weren't for the records that must be kept. These are onerous.

It's beginning to look like a man who isn't on direct relief is going to have to be both a lawyer and a CPA just to keep out of jail.

Small business already was groaning under the load of record keeping, regulations and taxation imposed by the federal government.

I was notified last month — as were other employers across the nation — that the US Department of Labor is gravely concerned about the possible existence of working hazards and conditions dangerous to the health of employees of The Canyon News.

I was told that I could expect inspectors who would graciously consent to my accompanying them on tours of The News plant in quest of health hazards.

I have a sneaking suspicion that they just want me handy when it comes time to serve a citation. By the way an employer served a citation is directed by the Department of Labor to post the citation at or near the place the hazard was discovered.

This is in spite of the fact that doing so is a clear violation of his rights under the Fifth Amendment.

On top of this there are records, records, and more records to be kept.

Does anyone have an aspirin?

4 Lettermen Return As Linebackers

West Texas State University's 1971 football club will lack in experience in many positions, but the linebacking group boasts four lettermen.

Of the four lettermen, Bill McKinney leads the way. He is a two-year starter and a good one. Windy Williams, a two-year letterman, is slated to start at one of the outside positions and Larry Matthews, a converted defensive back, will open fall drills at the other starting berth.

Joe Brock, who lettered at linebacker last fall, will back up Williams and Matthews. Joining that group of lettermen are talented sophomores Glenn Kelly and Bobby Hobbs, junior college transfer Willis Haws and tryouts Dennis Duniwen and Tony Mullaney.

McKinney, 6-1 and 218, played for new Buffalo coach Gene Mayfield at Borger. Following his high school football career McKinney joined the Navy. As an underwater demolition man, he served two tours of duty in Vietnam.

The rugged 26-year-old has been a regular linebacker for the Buffs during the past two years. He led the team last fall in unassisted tackles with 52.

"McKinney is our defensive leader," said Mayfield. "He has speed, size and the right temperament. He gets to the football."

The new Buffalo coach feels that Williams and Matthews will make many big plays because of the speed, but may both be bothered by a lack of starting experience and size. Both are sub-200 pounders.

Gene Mayfield, left, and David West discuss the 1971 Buffalo team at West Texas State University following an organizational meeting of the Buff booster club Monday night. Mayfield, head football coach and athletic director at WT, reviewed the team's strengths and weaknesses.

50 Attended Booster Meeting

Some 50 persons attended the first meeting Monday of the West Texas State University Buffalo Booster Club sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Athletic director and head football coach Gene Mayfield told the gathering ticket sales were excellent in early summer but have slacked off the past few weeks.

Some 2900 season tickets have been sold for 1971 as compared to 2400 sold last year, reported athletic business manager Wayne Ray.

"It is not my nature to be overly optimistic," quipped Mayfield, "But being overly pessimistic is not good for ticket sales either."

He expressed disappointment over the loss of Gary Lacy of San Angelo, who had signed with WT earlier in the year but has decided not to attend here.

"We had counted on Lacy for our running game," Mayfield explained. "Now we will have to go back to the blackboards and get something to juice up our offense."

Mayfield also reported that some 12 to 14 boys have transferred to WT for the fall semester.

"Some of them are coming from Southwest Conference schools and some from junior colleges," he noted. "They won't help us this year but we feel they will a year from now."

The head coach said the Buffs may have a passing attack this year, with the loss of Lacy.

"We know we can't have a drop back passing attack because we don't have an offensive line to stop that," he

Walker To Offensive Tackle Spot

BY TOMMY BRYANT
Willie Walker heard tell of fine football being played down in Texas and came to find out four years ago. He had heard correctly, but now he is one of the reasons for that fine playing.

Walker, whose home is Freeport, N.Y., was a husky raw-boned youngster when he reported to the West Texas State camp four years ago on a tryout basis as a fullback.

He impressed the Buffalo coaching staff at that time enough to put him on scholarship. Although he bruised bodies when he ran into them carrying the football, he didn't out run many tacklers.

Partly because of his lack of great quickness and partly because of his strong blocking, Walker was moved to tight end and red-shirted one year. For the past two seasons he was the starting tight end.

Walker's position and outlook on the game underwent several changes this past spring. Gene Mayfield was hired out of Odessa as the head Buffalo coach. The new head coach wasn't too pleased with the way Willie caught the ball, but he was taken by the 6-3, 225-pounder's blocking.

When Mayfield moved Walker to offensive tackle, the big youngster was at first discouraged. He did decide to give the new position a try and on his first try — that being to knock the stuffing out of several folks placed in front of him during a hitting drill — he started to like the new post.

When the Buffalo coaching staff started looking at him with newly-found respect, Willie started liking the position even better. By the end of spring practice, he was firmly set as a starter and was ready to give it his all this fall when the Buffaloes start practice August 19.

Opposite Walker at the other tackle is returning regular Joe Fiola. Backing them are sophomore Walter Adams and squadman Billy Taylor.

The guards are solid with regular Gary Ruston and letterman Steve Jones getting competition from squadman Greg McCoy and sophomore Ronnie Bassett.

Center James Hankins, who ended spring drills in the number one position, is a converted offensive tackle. He is backed by sophomore Dewayne Sexton and Mike Casas, another sophomore who was moved from linebacker late in the spring.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The first American has been shot down by the ATFD (Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms Division of the IRS), our equivalent of the Gestapo.

Cloaked in the Federal Gun Control Act of 1968, the IRS broke into a man's home, fired from 5 to 7 shots, and sent him to the hospital critically wounded.

On the night of June 7, 1971, Kenyon F. Ballew, 27, a peaceable, law-abiding suburbanite of Washington, D.C., was enjoying his bath after a hard day's work in a newspaper pressroom. His wife was dressing for bed. They heard nothing.

On emerging half clad from the bathroom, Mrs. Ballew saw a horde of armed men dressed like hippies crashing through the front door of their apartment. She screamed for her husband.

Naked and dripping from his bath, Ballew grabbed an antique gun from his collection, and fired. He hit no one. They shot him in the head.

Belatedly, Mrs. Ballew was allowed to put on a dress. She was handcuffed and dragged down to the police station. All this because the Ballews were "reported" to have illegal guns in their home.

One of the Maryland policemen who took Mrs. Ballew to the station agreed that apparently some errors had been made, but "these things do happen."

Maryland's chief federal prosecutor, U.S. District Attorney George Beall, a brother of U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall (Md.), praised the ATFD investigators. "From our point of view," Beall was quoted, "they did nothing extraordinary, nothing reckless, nothing culpable, nothing wrong."

Beall insisted their performance was "letter-perfect execution of their search warrants with the exception of the unfortunate incident that occurred."

The ATFD admits they found nothing illegal in the Ballew home. They did, however, impound all the guns and ammunition.

The guns must be held because the wounded man is subject to a Maryland State charge of "aggravated assault with intent to commit murder" if he lives.

What happened to the Ballews can happen to any family that keeps a gun in the house. And there are much more stringent gun laws in the making than the one that produced the Ballew tragedy.

If this savage invasion of privacy, violation of human dignity, and disregard of the sanctity of life is ignored, at least half the homes in America are subject to a similar outrage.

Anyone who keeps guns — or is reported to do so — may find the ATFD crashing through his door.

No free people have ever been conquered until first they were disarmed. Insidious forces are still determined to deprive us of our Constitutional right to defend ourselves.

"All it takes for evil men to rule is for good men to keep silent." What can we do? Not much. But we can put pressure on the men who can do something.

If everyone who loves America and what freedoms we have left would write a post card to his congressman — and every other lawmaker he knows — and ask him what he is doing about the Ballew tragedy, something will be done.

Or had you rather wait for the ATFD to call on you?

You bet it matters

BY SUSAN DOLLE

A man interested in the development of the hospital district and new building is Raymond Batenhorst who has been appointed as board member of the hospital board. This is not the first community service Raymond has performed; he served as a trustee for the Umbarger school for a score of years. Raymond says that the committee will be meeting every week, outlining plans to move the project whenever the Hill-Burton funds are forthcoming. Other board members who come from every corner of the county include Mrs. T. J. Hull Jr., president; Vernon Harman, Mrs. Nolon Henson, O.H. Ralphs, Bill Sternberg and Floyd Tomlinson. The efforts of these civic-minded people remind me of a poem which I recently read.

BUILDING

I watched them tearing a building down
A gang of men in a busy town
With a yo-heave-ho and a lusty yell,
They swung a beam and the side wall fell.

I asked the foreman: "Are these men skilled-
The kind you would hire if you wanted to build?"
He laughed and said: "Why no, indeed,
Just common labor is all I need;
They can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken years to do."

I asked myself, as I went my way,
Which of these roles have I tried today?
Am I a builder who works with care,
Measuring life by the rule and square,
Shaping my deeds by the well-made plan,
Patiently doing the best I can:
Or am I a wrecker who walkd the town
Content with the labor of tearing down?

"TEXAS" Survey Results Revealed

Raymond Raillard, executive vice president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and manager of the "Texas" musical drama, announced the results of the first four audience surveys taken for the 1971 season.

As before, over two thirds of the people questioned said they had come because of a friend's report. About one-third had seen the production before — and many from great distances were included in this number.

Questions were asked on Wednesday, June 30; Saturday, July 10; Tuesday, July 20; Thursday, July 29 of the heads of 791 families. They came from the following areas:

Canyon & Amarillo — 14%,

1971; 17%, 1970. Area (100 miles away) and Lubbock — 26%, 1971; 29%, 1970. Rest of Texas — 37%, 1971; 29%, 1970. Out of State & Foreign — 23%, 1971; 25%, 1970.

According to our sampling, 15% stayed in motels last year, 27% this year. Last year only 1.3% decided to attend the show within the previous 48 hours. This year 4.7% decided to stay during that period.

There are so many reservations already made for the rest of the season that it is important to secure your seats in advance. Call the Box Office...806-655-2182, or write "Texas", Box 258, Canyon, Texas 79015 for reservations.

Frank Castleberry left president of family to the "TEXAS" production Canyon Lions club, presented Kumiko Hata, visiting exchange student, with tickets for her and the A. J. Luquette.

Appraising Course Offered

A course in appraising real property will be offered for the first time this fall by the School of Business at West Texas State University.

The school is one of five in the country selected to offer the course by the Society of Real Estate Appraisers in Chicago. The only other place in Texas where it is offered is the University of Houston.

Joe L. Martin of the First Federal Savings and Loan of Amarillo, a senior residential appraiser (SRA), will teach the course at WTSU.

Dr. Zeke Marchant, head of the Department of Business Administration, said the course is open to anyone. No prerequisites are required.

The course, listed as B.A. 276-3, will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesdays in room 104 of the University Complex South, Marchant said.

He said the course was especially designed for persons working toward the SRA. It will be taught on the undergraduate level, he added.

Before offering the course, West Texas State had to be approved by the Society of Real Appraisers in Chicago.

"We have been trying for several years to get the approval to teach this course," Marchant said. "Before approving us, the society wanted to make sure we met their standards." Students registering for the course should do so Aug. 28, registration day for evening students. The cost is $124.25, Marchant said.

He said a second course in the series required for the SRA would be offered next summer.

Happy Days Set August 26-29

Annual Happy Days Celebration will be held Aug. 26 — 29 and will include a three-day rodeo, Oldtimers barbecue, parade, carnival, beard contest, horse shoe pitching, western dance and Oldtimers awards.

Beginning at 8 p.m. on Thursday Aug. 26, the rodeo will feature bareback broncs, bull riding, saddle broncs, bull dogging, calf roping, team roping and barrel races.

Two other features will be a wild cow milking contest for civic clubs only and a wild horse race.

The rodeo will be sponsored by the Happy Rodeo Association. An amateur steer roping contest will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday sponsored by the Happy Jaycees. All these events will be held in the Happy Rodeo arena.

Celebration activities begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 28, with a parade through downtown, followed at 11 a.m. with a needle-in-haystack, and at 11:30 a.m. with an Oldtimers barbecue, free to all oldtimers.

The barbecue lunch for $1 per plate will be at noon and Oldtimers Awards will be presented at 12:30 p.m. Happy Fire Department will give away a mini bike at 1 p.m. and the beard contest and horse shoe pitching contest will begin at 1 p.m.

The annual western dance begins at 9 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the Jaycee Hall with the Maines Bros. Band of Lubbock playing.

Happy Jaycees are sponsoring the Celebration except for the rodeo.

Japanese Teen Sees 'Texas'

Kumiko Hata of Sasebo, Japan, who has been staying with the A.J. Luquette family for about five weeks as a foreign exchange student, will finally see "Texas" Friday night.

The Luquette family and Miss Hata, 19, were presented tickets to the performance by the daytime Lions Club Monday.

Since her arrival in Canyon, Miss Hata has been to Palo Duro Canyon, the Panhandle-Plains Historical museum, Lake Meredith, an all-star basketball game in Brownwood, camped out one night, saw the Amarillo Giants play, visited all the churches here, went to a street dance and attended many of Luquette's classes.

Miss Hata likes American food "very much" and thinks American youth are strange. She has learned quite a bit of English during her stay.

The Japanese teen will be flying home Aug. 20.

THE LAND

THE LAND is one of man's most valuable assets—we think it is prime collateral. In the past 54 years the Federal Land Bank of Houston has made almost 200,000 loans on Texas farms and ranches.

In other words, we specialize in making farm and ranch real estate loans—long term loans with prepayment privileges.

See us today for full details, no obligation of course.

Dr. Jerry Miller Honored

Dr. Jerry Don Miller, associate professor of business at West Texas State University, has been selected for the 1971 edition of Outstanding Educators of America.

In announcing the selection today, publishers of the annual awards volume said the educators are picked on their talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities, civic service and professional recognition.

Miller, 32, returned to West Texas State in 1970 after receiving a Ph.D. in finance at Louisiana State University. He had taught here from 1963 to 1966.

WT Graduation Is At 8 P.M. Tonight

Four hundred-one degrees will be awarded at Summer Convocation for West Texas State University today in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

Graduates will rehearse at 3 p.m., with actual commencement exercises beginning at 8 p.m.

Summer commencement will honor Cecil Briggs, 65, retiring associate professor of mathematics.

Briggs, a native of Maypearl, came to the university in 1941. He has taught in Potosi, and in Happy. From 1932 through 1941, he was principal for the Happy Elementary School.

He holds a Bachelor's degree from West Texas State University and a master's from Texas Tech University.

Undergraduates will take final examinations Friday. School will then close until Aug. 22, when entering freshmen are expected to arrive on campus.

Freshman orientation will be held Aug. 23-25.

Seniors and freshmen will register for fall Aug. 26, with sophomores, juniors and graduates registering Aug. 27. Students enrolling for only night classes and students who arrived late will register Aug. 28. Class instruction will begin Aug. 30.

Dedication ceremonies were conducted Monday afternoon in the Randall County Courthouse in honor of longtime Randall County Commissioner Clarence Beckman, center. A picture of the man who worked for years as a part of the county growth was hung by his grandson Wayne Friemel, left. County Judge Woody Pond, right, shakes hand with Beckman, who retired last year.

Future WT Cager Is Picked Top

West Texas State bound Carl Jones was named outstanding player in the annual Texas High School Coaches Association basketball games in Fort Worth recently.

The 6-2 Wichita Falls native canned 23 points in leading a 100-99 North victory over the South All-Stars.

WT's Wide Receivers Form Contrast

Daryl Wynn and his running mate, Carl Brown, present an interesting contrast as the wide receivers on West Texas State's football team.

Both receivers get the job done by catching the ball, but there the likeness ends. Wynn, a senior, is a two-year starter at split end and Brown is a sophomore.

Wynn, who is from the Northmost part of Texas in Follett, is 6-4 and 202. Brown, who hails from the southern portion of Texas at Van Vleet, is 6-1½ and 167 pounds.

While Wynn is far from slow, (4.9 speed in the 40-yard dash), Brown has blistering speed. He captured the Missouri Valley Conference indoor 50-yard hurdle championships in both the high hurdles and intermediate hurdles last winter.

New coach Gene Mayfield was highly impressed with both receivers during the spring drills. Placement kicker Matias Garza, who once ran a 9.6 in the 100-yard dash, did some receiving work in the spring.

The other principal receivers in Coach Mayfield's attack are the tight end and the right halfback. Aubrey Warren, a converted line-backer from San Antonio, started during most of spring drills at tight end. He is a standout blocker and improved on his receiving and running of pass patterns as the spring progressed. Behind Warren is red-shirt sophomore Attila Vegh.

Mike McCullough, an excellent receiver, finished spring drills as the starting right halfback. He was moved during the spring from split end, where he lettered last fall. Behind McCullough, a former second team all-stater from Tulia, was squadman Jim Albracht, a junior from Amarillo.

Refuge Low On Water

Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge assistant manager Milton Suthers reported only small amounts of rain in that area, southwest of Canyon, and explained that the amount of surface acres of water is less this year than this time last year.

Suthers said last fall some 200 surface acres of water was in the water shed, but this year only about 15 surface acres of water has fallen.

He said unless more rains come, the water presently there will be lost.

"The water is only about six inches deep in the lake now," he reported. "And it will dry up unless we have more rains."

He said he has seen several early migrating blue wing teals on the refuge, but predicts there will not be enough water for the water fowl later in the year if rains continue to bypass the refuge.

Graveside Rites Conducted Here

Graveside rites were conducted at 3 p.m. Tuesday for Martha Phillips Garrett, 83, at Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home. Dwayne Dennis, pastor of the Central Church of Christ officiated.

A former resident of Truth or Consequences, N.M., Mrs. Garrett died Saturday night in her daughter's home in Lubbock.

She was born in Mineral Wells and was a member of the Church of Christ at Lordsburg, N.M. She married Jack Garrett in Arizona. He died in 1952. She had been in Truth or Consequences 10 years.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. C.W. Gunn of Lubbock and Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of Duncan, Ariz.; one son John Phillips of Phoenix, Ariz.; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Habits Make Difference

Heart Needs Care

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles directed toward health tips and written from interviews with the city health officer Dr. Edwin Low.

BY MARGO CRABTREE

Fred is a young man of only 38. He is an overweight, consistent pack-a-day smoking businessman.

His wife is a fabulous cook, with her specialties being highly seasoned fatty foods that Fred loves.

He is an average sort of fellow. He works hard, spends little time exercising, thinking that the trek to and from the drug store daily is plenty of physical exertion for him.

But Fred has heart disease. In fact, he is recuperating from a heart attack that felled him two weeks ago.

He faces a lengthy period of readjusting his life, his habits, his likes and dislikes.

But if he changes some patterns of living, he may live to see his grandchildren grow up. If some of his habits aren't changed, the likelihood of a second heart attack is overwhelming.

Fred's doctor attributes six major reasons to heart attacks, the first being overweight and the second being smoking. The other contributing causes of heart diseases are lack of exercise, known high blood pressure, hereditary heart disease, and being a diabetic.

"If your diet includes lots of animal fats, you have a higher chance of heart disease than if your diet is filled with more vegetable fats," Dr. Edwin Low, Canyon health officer explains.

Smoking is another sure cause of heart disease. In fact, the death rate is higher in smokers than non-smokers and incidence of a second attack in smokers who have quit smoking is much less than if a patient does not stop his puffing.

"Giving up smoking becomes mandatory after a heart attack," Low says.

"A person should exercise daily, not necessarily vigorously, but consistently," the doctor urges.

How does a man or woman know if heart disease may be plaguing his life? The first symptoms are chest pains that you may feel when doing even a little exercising, such as walking, running, or training in any way.

"You may have chest pains and stop to relax for just a few seconds or minutes, and the pain is relieved," Low notes.

This is the first clue that heart disease may be a problem.

When a patient goes to a doctor, he will be given an electrocardiogram before exercising and another one after exercising. And a lab test may be given which will show if lots of fats are in a person's blood (lipids).

"If we find a potential heart disease we encourage the patient to decrease the animal fat in his diet, increase exercise but not the vigor of the exercises, and by all means to stop smoking," the city health officer says.

Low points out that the lack of rest contributes very little if any to a heart attack, although after a heart attack a person is required to have complete rest, doing no exercising the first six weeks following the attack. The amount of activity can be increased as the months pass.

The number of heart disease patients who are in their 30's and 40's is increasing, and Dr. Low attributes this increase to the number of people who live in urban areas, in addition to the smoking, diet and lack of physical activity we subject ourselves to.

He explains that the death rate due to heart diseases in cities is higher than in rural areas because rural residents are exposed to more outdoor activity as a general rule with an emphasis on physical work.

And the problem of overweight is another glaring danger to potential heart patients.

Low says that if a man is 20 per cent overweight, his chances of heart disease increase 25 per cent. If a man is 30 per cent overweight his chances increase to 42 per cent.

But, a patient may ask, I don't smoke and my weight is within range of what it should be, and I still have heart disease.

The doctor points to the lack of activity, the amount of fatty foods taken in, possible high blood pressure.

And Dr. Low notes that a patient who does not have other contributing factors such as smoking and overweight, will find exercising rehabilitating, providing a patient does not exercise too much.

Heart disease is common, but a person can effectively take care of his heart with the readjusting of some habits and the breaking of a few more.

Voter. . .

have moved to and it is our responsibility to notify that county tax office that these people are new in their county," Mrs. Bruse continues.

And she points out if new people come into Randall County, her office is responsible for notifying the county from which the residents came that they have moved.

Mrs. Bruse expects some 30,000 persons will register to vote in Randall County this year. Out of this 30,000, 3,750 notices will probably be mailed out to persons who have moved.

"This will be a cost of $600 just to purchase the change of address cards," Mrs. Bruse predicts.

Other costs will include paper for permanent records, note books in which to store the permanent files, filing cabinets and shelves.

And permanent accounts of voter certificates both active and inactive and voter registration active and inactive must be kept by the assessor-collector's office.

All-in-all Mrs. Bruse is expecting a busy and cumbersome year.

To help combat some of the woes, the county tax assessors-collectors in the state are meeting Aug. 18 — 19 in Austin to discuss Senate bill 51, which is the voter registration law, and to investigate a law requiring tax offices to collect $1 delinquent tax beginning Sept. 1 to be used by a new committee set up to study ad valorem taxes in the state.

Canyon had only one building permit issued in July, 1970 for a one-family unit structure. This year five were issued for the same period.

And five trailer parks have opened in the county thus far this year.

And he says growth is evident in the number of county criminal court cases filed thus far this year.

"We have filed as many cases in the first six months of this year as filed the entire year last year — and last year was a record breaking year," he emphasized.

Hutton predicts Randall County's development and growth will be ever increasing.

"And I am not quite ready for it," he said. "I expected it, but I had hoped to get my record keeping organized so we can cope with the growth as it hits."

But Hutton is finding that he has little time for organizing, he's too busy just staying abreast.

urday, but more rainfall further north and west of his place.

In the southeastern part of the county Louis Henders recorded .8 inches at his home and 2.5 inches on his land on the Palo Duro highway. But that area has not had rainfall since Saturday, he reported.

"We still have spots that are on the dry side, Brazzil said. The eastern side is wetter than the western side but we're very optimistic.

"Since cattle are a big part of the industry in Randall County, this moisture sort of puts us back in business," the agent added. "We can have grazing on the ranges and pasture and we also have a chance to get back in the wheat pasture business. We have a hay crop coming on and this looks good. Things look better now than they have in a couple of years."

Kenneth Brehob of the WTSU geography department, recorded a total of 2.27 inches of rain between Friday and Tuesday night, making the total amount in the city for the year 10.01 inches.

Hutton said he had received no report on a petition circulated by Omer Mainville for a local option election in Justice Precinct 1.

In other business Justice of the Peace W. W. Hancock was denied a request for a full time secretary. He was given permission to hire student help part time for his office.

Hancock told the court he needs full time help because of the $2.50 tax being imposed by the state on all fines will create a record keeping load.

Sale of caliche to Happy Feed Yard and to Louis Henders was authorized.

County Tax Assessor-Clerk Audrey Bruse told the court voter registration regulations passed by the legislature will cost the county at least $20,000 a year in extra bookkeeping. She said a complete new department will be needed in her office.

Mrs. Bruse reported collections of 97 per cent of current taxes.

Mrs. Bruse said that for the first time her office had handled in excess of $2 million during the past fiscal year.

The court discussed putting caliche on about a half mile of Osage in the vicinity of Hope Mission. County road crews have just completed blacktopping about three miles of the road.

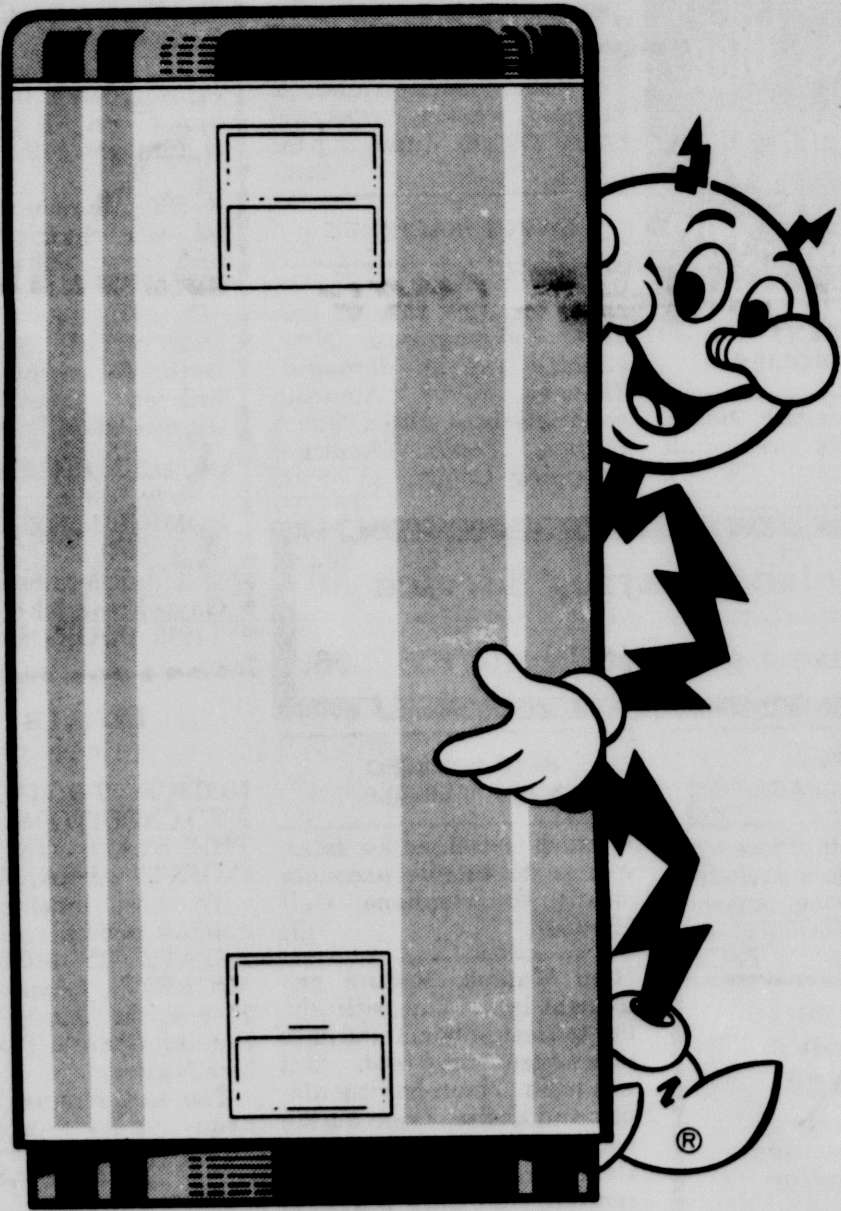

It was the first such project under the new unit system begun by the county this year.

The court accepted various reports and heard a request from Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston for three new cars for his department. Action was postponed until the request can be placed on the agenda.

Commissioners granted a request that sheriff's department cars be equipped with emergency oxygen kits at a cost of about $30 each and delayed action on a request for equipment which would provide 110 voltage off auto alternators for use as emergency flood light power.

Available equipment will be studied, commissioners decided.

Johnston said his department has nine automobiles.

Canyon High School Eagle band is now being represented by a mascot with no name. Vern Zimmerman is pictured with the mascot drawn by Andy Wilks, West Texas State University student. The drawing will be reduced for use on stationery so that he will be associated with the band when seen. The little mascot is to be framed and will probably hang in the band hall. ### Band's Shop Opens Today

Band Box Gift Shop will open today at the corner of 4th Street and 15th Avenue in the old First National Bank Building, said Mrs. Don Baird, supervisor.

The gift shop will be open from 2:30 - 5:30 p.m. Thursday and Fridays and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays to raise money for the band's Vienna '72 fund.

Mothers of Canyon High School band students will be running the gift shop with student help.

Merchandise for the shop was given to the band for its actual cost by a gift shop in Amarillo which went out of business. Merchandise made by the students will be added to the shop during the school year.

The shop will include a Bid and Buy table. Items on the table will be bid on and the person who offers the highest price above cost will buy the item, Mrs. Baird said.

FLASH, FLASH, FLASH — Here comes a special offer to the residents of the Gene Howe area. John Phillips will conduct tennis lessons for beginners and intermediates starting Monday of next week (the 16th) and they will run thru Friday, August 20th. This will be every evening from seven till eight o'clock at the Amarillo Tennis Center, at 1808 Wimberly. The cost will be $5.00 per person so all you bodies that have been telling me you would like to learn, or to have your kids learn, call now and submit your name. Please call Mrs. David Kent at 655-4385 and tell her that you will be there.

If you do not recognize the name of John Phillips, he happens to be a 1971 Singles and Doubles Champion for the Missouri Valley Conference, a former State Singles Champion and holds the West Texas title for 1969, 1970 and 1971. He played on the Texas Juniors Davis Cup team in 1969 and 1970 and in the National Junior Tennis Circuit. He is imminently qualified to teach these lessons. Now folks, there may be some real serendipity from this venture — you will not only have learned the fundamentals of tennis, and perhaps get in good shape yourself, and learn to play one of the greatest sports ever, but if we can get some of our young people on the road to becoming really great tennis players, then perhaps we can get our good Canyon Independent School System involved in a top-shelf tennis program — and that in itself would be a great and worthwhile achievement, and that, ladies and gentlemen, would be setting a precedent. So you be sure and call not later than Sunday afternoon to the lovely Mrs. Kent.

The staff of the school will include six or seven women, she said. There will be a teacher for the 2 and 3-year-olds, the junior kindergarten of 4-year-olds and the kindergarten of 5-year-olds. School hours will be 8:30-11:30 a.m. There will also be an infants department.

The auditorium of the school was destroyed in the fire and will not be replaced for a while, Mrs. Robins said. "But the concrete will be fenced off and used for wheel toys."

Dr. and Mrs. John Godfrey returned home from England with a souvenir from the British Museum, a cat made of stone which is a replica of an Egyptian piece made in about 600 B.C. The cat wears gold earrings.

Godfreys View Medieval Sites

BY NELL WILLIAMS

Five and a half weeks of research at the British Museum in London have given Dr. John Godfrey, associate professor of English at WTSU, a mass of information on "Beowulf" and on folklore. His next project is to correlate the two.

Godfrey, working on a research grant from WTSU, is preparing a study of elements of folklore in "Beowulf."

Dr. Godfrey and his wife devoted their free time to touring as much of England as possible and to five or six days in Paris. They were "fortunate enough to be there on Bastille Day."

The pair concentrated on England's medieval centers, since Dr. Godfrey's teaching duties lie in the field of pre-16th century literature. "I'm a romantic," he confessed, saying that he went to Canterbury to evoke Chaucer.

At Canterbury, the Godfreys attended evensong in the cathedral. The service was also attended by the present Lord Cornwallis, "but I didn't say anything to him," grinned the professor, recalling the Revolutionary period of this country's history, with the 18th century Lord Cornwallis led the English troops defeated at Yorktown.

Disappointed that it was vacation-time for workers at the archaeological excavation at Sutton Hoo, an Anglo-Saxon burial site, Dr. Godfrey took a train to a nearby town and took pictures from the far riverbank with a long-range camera. Many of the treasures found at Sutton Hoo are now on display in the British Museum, said the scholar, but he wanted to feel that he had stood where the Anglo-Saxons had been.

"I even looked for a row-boat to rent," he said.

No body was found at Sutton Hoo, Dr. Godfrey said. It is a memorial to some king, though "it's a puzzle which king."

The discoveries there prove the authenticity of some things in Anglo-Saxon poetry, Dr. Godfrey declared. In "Beowulf," there are two descriptions of great treasures interred at burials. The Sutton Hoo find shows that they were not figments of the poet's imagination, he said.

The celebration of York's 1900th anniversary formed the goal for another of the day trips the couple took.

A weekend in the Lake Country of northwestern England "goofing off" brought them into "Wordsworth Country" and so chilled them that they needed a fire in their room. Their visit was made during a June which newspapers said was the wettest and coldest since 1916.

Stonehenge was also chilly and wet, when they visited the Druids' circle of rock. Stonehenge in the rain possesses a "mystic atmosphere," Dr. Godfrey said.

The two viewed the Queen's birthday celebration and were impressed by the British attitude toward the Queen and the British love of tradition.

Tradition permeates the atmosphere of the University towns, Oxford and Cambridge. In Oxford, the Godfreys stayed in a hotel which was originally a medieval dormitory. It was old, but immaculate, reported Dr. Godfrey, and was located on Oxford's main street. Ordinarily, Oxford celebrates July 4, but this year, the fourth was graduation day and university ceremonies filled the day, said Dr. Godfrey.

The travellers saw plays in London with stars like Robert Morley, Lawrence Harvey and Ingrid Bergman at theatres where the top prices were less than $5. They were amused by a rock musical based on Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," in which the most suggestive songs were in Chaucer's own words, averred Dr. Godfrey.

At Stratford, they attended a performance of "Much Ado About Nothing."

Of his work at the British Museum, Dr. Godfrey said that he liked the availability and the services. Service was sometimes slow because of the numbers of people using the museum library, but he learned to leave requests for books the day before he needed them so they would be waiting when he was ready. The public is usually allowed only on the lower level of the museum, but he was taken to an upper level to look at folklore magazines.

"Security was very tight," he said, and he was not allowed to take pictures in the library, though he could take pictures of treasures on display in the museum.

In fact, Dr. Godfrey took 42 rolls of film during his stay broad, and declared that Mrs. Godfrey "came along to hold my lenses."

He took only one picture in an area where it was forbidden — at Shakespeare's tomb.

Mrs. Godfrey said that she was most impressed by the Eiffel Tower in Paris. "I never dreamed it was so huge!"

She was also intrigued at the sight of Frenchmen carrying home long, unwrapped loaves of bread and by the sidewalk cafes.

Shoemakers Find Europe "As Advertised"

BY NELL WILLIAMS

Switzerland was her favorite country, chosen for its cleanliness and beauty. The Shoemakers stayed at Lucerne on the edge of Lake Lucerne. The teacher described the lake as "white swans on blue water."

Aerial cars took them to high places, including the top of the Schilthorn, where they were "face to face with the Jungfrau."

"We threw snowballs on the Fourth of July on the top of the Schilthorn."

Mrs. Shoemaker said that in Europe she learned that "sleeping rooms do not always come with bath," that all the countries they visited have fine cheeses, and that "the people were friendly and accommodating wherever we went."

"We never knew what we were eating from the menus," laughed the traveler. "My 12-year-old learned to say French fries in all languages."

An added dividend of the trip was a visit with Mrs. Shoemaker's daughter and her family in Germany. Major and Mrs. Troice Cline are stationed at Ramstein. Mrs. Cline is the former Carol Case. She is a graduate of West Texas State University and Amarillo High School.

The Clines accompanied the Shoemakers on their travels.

cause sand-blasting harms the stones and carvings.

In Paris, because of a reservation mix-up, the Shoemakers stayed in a Left Bank hotel where no English was spoken. "I even learned to argue about the bill in French by the second day," laughed the teacher.

Paris traffic is the worst anywhere, she thought. "There are no lanes, and horn-honking is forbidden. But the gendarmes were utterly precious. They would stop and help someone right in the middle of the traffic."

The family took a historical tour and also saw the Louvre where, again, Mrs. Shoemaker rejoiced to see that the Mona Lisa, the Winged Victory, and the Venus de Milo really are on view. Napoleon's tomb in the Hotel des Invalides was another thrill, as was window-shopping on the Champs Elysee. "It was too expensive for anything else."

A tour on the Rhine River gave the family a chance to see many of the major castles of Europe. "Land use in Germany is amazing. Vineyards and fields are terraced on hillsides clear along the Rhine," said Mrs. Shoemaker.

In Cologne Cathedral, which was begun in the 600s and is still in use, the travelers were told that one bell in the tower weighs 25 tons. Among sights on display for visitors is a huge gold chest said to contain the gifts given the Christ-child by the three Magi.

The family picked blueberries, raspberries, and strawberries growing wild in the German woods and picnicked on the edge of the grounds of the Castle of Vaduz in the tiny principality of Lichtenstein. "We said we were having lunch with the prince," laughed Mrs. Shoemaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grimes and their four children returned this week from a camping trip to Colorado. The family spent a week in the mountains.

Finding that the Europe she has read about really exists was a continuing source of pleasure to Mrs. Joe Shoemaker, who has just returned from a three-week tour of the continent. Mrs. Shoemaker, a fifth-grade teacher at Gene Howe Elementary School, was accompanied by her husband and two daughters, Cindy, 14, and Melissa, 12.

Crossing France the Shoemakers found that Chateau Thierry and the Marne are real places, driving through Belgium they saw that "poppies grow in Flanders fields, they really do," and in Switzerland, just as they had read in "Heidi," families drive their cattle to the high pastures during the summer and cut hay on the lower slopes to store for winter.

The group toured by car, visiting the Netherlands first. "One highlight was visiting the flower auctions at Allamere," said Mrs. Shoemaker. "A fifth of the income of the Netherlands comes from flowers. Canal tours on barges showed them that many of the Dutch live on houseboats, ranging from small ones carrying coal and a family to "big, beautiful houseboats, comparable to our big house trailers."

Mrs. Shoemaker was also delighted to find that about 300 windmills are still used to pump water in the Netherlands and another 600 are used for grinding and other mechanical tasks.

One thing she noticed throughout their travels is that in Europe "they don't tear down the old when they build the new. They care for it. Most of these old places are in good repair and in use."

"In Amsterdam, there is a large new section of the city which is high-rise apartments with shopping centers. But Old Amsterdam is just as much in use."

In Paris, she noted, workmen were cleaning Notre Dame Cathedral by hand be-

WHEN SHOULD YOU TRY SELF-MEDICATION?

Medical authorities agree that self-medication should be restricted to first aid for symptoms of conditions that one can recognize easily. Examples are, a simple cold that does not persist, occasional constipation, simple headaches, minor aches and pains, infrequent indigestion, or minor burns.

But, if symptoms persist, or re-occur frequently, it is dangerous to keep masking them with home remedies. A physician should be visited to diagnose the true causes of any ailment and to treat them for a cure. Treatment at the beginning of any problem is usually more effective and can prevent much future pain.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

1921 WARREN'S 1971

New Faces For WT Offense

BY TOMMY BRYANT

Like several other areas on West Texas State's football team, the offensive line will have a new face for this fall. Three of the six starters across the closed portion of the line will be at new positions.

James Hankins, a converted tackle, will open fall drills Aug. 19 as the starting center. Tackle Willie Walker came to West Texas as a fullback and started for the past two years at tight end. Tight end Aubrey Warren has been a linebacker.

When Gene Mayfield was hired as head coach of the Buffaloes last February, he was faced with the prospect of not being able to add to his squad. The second semester was already in progress, so he couldn't recruit new players from junior college ranks.

As Mayfield teaches a more straight ahead type of blocking than had been taught in the past at West Texas, there were some problems during spring drills in making the switch in types of blocks.

Returning regular Gary Ruston and letterman Steve Jones held the top berths as guards after spring drills, although both were being pushed by squadman Greg McCoy. Joe Fiola, a starter last fall, held the tackle berth opposite Walker.

"Hankins and sophomore Dwayne Sexton made progress at the center position, but they still must improve a great deal," said Mayfield. Converted linebacker Mike Casas, a sophomore from Brownville, was moved to center late in spring drills.

Mayfield was fairly well pleased with the moves of Walker and Warren. The new Buffalo coach watched Warren run in films of the 1970 Buffalo season offensive line, and felt he would be a good tight end. He possesses greater speed than Walker, but the former tight end had pro scouts taking notice during spring drills with his explosive blocking.

Ring Vows Read In Vega Church

Miss Phyllis Louise Biddle and Robert Forrest Gruner exchanged double ring vows at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church of Vega. The Rev. Bob Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Adrian, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Biddle of Vega. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gruner of Rt. 2, Canyon, are parents of the bridegroom.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Jerry L. Biddle of Denver, Colo., the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin peau accented with appliques of alencon lace and seed pearls, designed with wateau train which fell from the shoulders forming a chapel sweep. Her shoulder-length veil of English illusion was attached to a cap of peau de soie with accents of pearl flowers.

Mrs. Billy Don Brown of Adrian, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Pat Casetty of Vega was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Lajo Fillingim of Briscoe, Barbara Peterson of Las Vegas, N.M., and Nancy Biddle of Lubbock. They wore yellow floor-length gowns designed with princess waistlines and short puff sleeves. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies with long white streamers.

The church altar was decorated with 14 arch candles with greenery in the center and 14 curved candles on each side. Two large arrangements of yellow and white daisies were placed on each side of the kneeling bench. Church pews were marked with large yellow bows.

Robert Olsen of Canyon was best man. Groomsmen were Kyle Sunderman of Canyon, Richard Kimbrough of Canyon, Dave Davis of Muleshoe and Doyle Johnson of Plainview.

Jim Marsh of Hereford, Dennis Brown of Adrian and Sunderman seated guests.

CHS Adds New Course This Year

Classes in home economics cooperative education are the most recent addition to the curriculum at Canyon High School this year, according to Superintendent Jerry Jacobs.

The classes afford students of junior and senior standing both on-the-job and classroom education in a variety of occupations. Work experience is provided the student through parttime employment at some cooperating business within the city.

The course is set up for one or two years and carries two credits each year. Students receive pay comparable to that paid beginning workers in the same occupation.

Typical occupations in the program are bridal consultant, child care aide, fabric coordinator, floral designer, food caterer, food service employee, home furnishings aide, housekeeping-management assistant, millinery aide and tester of foods, equipment or textiles.

The program will operate under the direction of Miss Janet Sargent, teacher-coordinator. Miss Sargent will be responsible for the selection and placement of students and will correlate their classroom and practical education. An advisory committee of local business people will be set up by the school to assist in organizing and operating the new program.

Program 'Frosting' To Students

BY JERRY MONTGOMERY

Upward Bound is "frosting on the cake" for about 50 area and regional high school juniors and seniors says program director Roger Scott.

The students became convinced after beginning the program that their time would not be wasted, he said. The program, which began July 12, will end Aug. 13, said program director Roger Scott.

Students participating in the college preparatory program and enrolled in three academic phases — reading and language arts, social studies and science and math. Morning sessions include studies in these areas, with afternoons packed full of bowling and other recreational activities, physical and health education and sewing for the girls.

Some of the students are second year students and will enter colleges and universities in the fall. For some this is the first time away from home, Scott said. The students are living the lives of college students in dormitories. Upward Bound, programmed for 50 students, has paid tuition fees and dormitory rents for the students.

About four members of the program recently participated in an exchange program with several students from the Upward Bound program in Portales, N.M.

Math and science can sometimes be interwoven, said instructor Larry Morris of Amarillo, a senior at Yale University. This is Morris' second year in teaching for Upward Bound. He has plans to spend one of the last weeks instructing the students in the use of a slide rule. Experiments in science course are being made with fruit flies, to determine the sex of the flies and the rate of reproduction.

Leon Garcia, a graduate of West Texas State University and now teacher and coach in Abilene, is working with the Upward Bound program for the second year. He instructs the social studies sessions.

Garcia runs the course as a regular college course, keeping attendance and grades. His instruction begins with the Bible and works up into the problems of the Chicano and Negro in America, mixing in a history of all American groups with the studies. "America was not made by one group of people," he tells his students, "and if I had my way, I'd name the course 'Minorities Have Made America Great.'" The social studies course is more of a "cultural awareness" course, Scott said.

A. Keith Turkett teaches the reading and language arts phase of the program. Stressed in that phase are individual and small group assessment of reading and language arts abilities and competencies, involvement in a diagnostic, remedial and evaluative reading skills program, and reinforcement through the utilization of teaching media such as the controlled readers, films, film strips, record player, tape recorder and typewriter. Newspapers have been a large part of their studies and several of the students have been using a camera for pictures for their own classroom newspaper.

Although the summer program will end Aug. 13, the Upward Bound program is a year-round program, Scott said.

Roger Scott, standing, director of the Upward Bound program at West Texas State University, looks in on two students in the reading and language arts segment of the program. The students are Irma Ornelas of Caprock High School in Amarillo and Lester Holland of Palo Duro High School in Amarillo. The summer phase of the program will end Aug. 13.

Girls Softball Team Loses Title Hopes

Canyon Eagles VFW girls softball team shattered an undefeated record at the state double elimination tournament in Garland last weekend, suffering two losses to end hopes for the state title.

The team, which qualified for the tournament by winning the Kids, Inc. Amarillo League, and the Amarillo and Canyon tournaments, was defeated in its first game by Blessed Sacrament of Houston, 13-5. Canyon was defeated by the Perry Pirates of Arlington, 12-3, in the second game.

A total of 16 champion teams representing 150 teams throughout the state were entered in the tournament. The Canyon team encountered several rules changes which differed from those they had previously used. A 12-inch ball, rather than the 11-inch ball used by Kids, Inc., was used. Sixty-foot base paths and a 40-foot pitching mound, differed from Kids, Inc., 5-foot base paths and 35-foot mounds. Kids, Inc., fielded 10-player teams and the tournament specified only 9 players per team.

Approximately 50 Canyon residents accompanied the girls to the tournament. The trip was made possible by donations from various businesses, individuals and organizations. Maximum age limit for participation in the tournament was 18. Maximum age to participate in Kids, Inc., is 15. None of the Canyon players were over 15 years of age.
